MSgt EARL JOHNSON II
Airfield Manager

The son of retired Major Earl and Brenda Johnson, Earl Johnson II was born in Ruislip, Great Britain. He grew up as a military dependent moving to several states and finally graduated from Mountain Home High School, Idaho. He joined the Air Force and went to basic training exactly one week after his high school graduation. Since joining the Air Force, MSgt Johnson has had numerous assignments including, Kirtland AFB, New Mexico, RAF Alconbury, Great Britain, Griffiss AFB, New York, McClellan AFB, California, Ramstein AB, Germany, Little Rock AFB, Arkansas, Kunsan AB, Korea and finally Langley AFB, Virginia where he currently serves as the Deputy, Command Airfield Manager for the 1C7X1 (Airfield Management) career field in Air Combat Command. MSgt Johnson has deployed to dozens of locations around the world including Africa, Italy, Kyrgyzstan, Russia, Albania, Kosovo and several locations in Europe and most recently Baghdad, Iraq.

A few of MSgt Johnson's most notable accomplishments to date are: he was selected the 2007 NCO of the Year for the 1st Fighter Wing Langley AFB, VA. In 2008, he was selected the Lance P. Sijan award winner for his outstanding leadership and the Croix de Valeur from 9th Air Force for his contributions to the Air Force as an enlisted non-flyer.

Some of Earl's interests include his children, football, basketball, music and the AIFCV. He has been a chaperone/staff member for the AIFCV since 2007

Earl lives in Hampton, VA with his 3 children, Kristyn 17, Alisha 14, and Antonio 8. Kristyn, his oldest daughter attended the AIFCV leadership seminar in 2007 and came back during the Nov 2008 seminar to be a Senior leader.
